

STUDENTS SWARM
EARLY ON CAMPUS

Largest Monday Enrollment Indicates Greatest Year in History.

ACADEMY IS CROWDED

Formal College Opening Takes Place
Wednesday Morning. Many Service Men are Back.

An advance rush of students not only equaling but exceeding the number desiring to enter Gettysburg College in many previous years indicates that mid-summer predictions will be borne out and the largest Freshman class in the institution's history will begin work on Thursday morning.

Eighty seventh academic year of college formally opens at 11:00 o'- clock on Wednesday morning when Dr. William A. Granville, president of the institution, will deliver an address of welcome to the entire student body. Members of the faculty attired in academic dress will meet in the faculty room, Gladfelter Hall, at 10:45 and proceed from there to Brua Chapel.

The size of the new Freshman class, which is estimated at about one hundred and fifty, is not the only feature of the 1919 opening of the college, however, as scores of service men are returning to swell the enrollment of the three upper classes.

Gettysburg College was noted for the number of men she sent to the Army and Navy in proportion to her size and already familiar figures are seen about the campus who one year ago were fighting in the front line trenches, sailing on the ocean, or training in military camps.

These are the men most strongly dependent upon to instill real college spirit into newcomers and make the year the greatest in the history of Gettysburg.

Gettysburg Academy is filled to overflowing and on Monday night many new students were in town inquiring about rooms. From early indications it seems as if not only the academy but the college dormitories will be taxed beyond their capacity this year.

Assistant Coach Doyle R. Leathers met great success on his week-end tour for foot ball men and a number of speedy backs have arrived and will continue to arrive for the next few days.

Victor Emanuel, star end, is expected on the Wednesday morning train from Harrisburg and a report is in circulation that even Harry Rote, backfield star, may reconsider his decision to go to Lehigh and return to Gettysburg.

The Annual College Y. M. C. A. reception to the new teachers and students will be held in Social Hall at 8:00 o'clock on Wednesday.

STRAWS PASS OUT

Season for Summer Headgear has Ended.

Taps has been sounded over all straw hats for the present season and Gettysburg men who defy the laws of custom and continue the sunburned headgear are taking chances. As each September 15th comes around the straw hat death knell is sounded.
Thousands of straw "lids" throughout the United States on Monday went up in smoke and those that did not are being watched furtively by the small boy anxiously waiting to crash the "dome."

As has been the custom, in years past, local clothing dealers have prepared for the exit of men's summer hats by dressing their windows with tempting arrays of fall and winter headgear. Snappy models in crushes, soft felts, velours and various sporting models are now on display. After a vacation of several years the once popular derby is also coming into its own again. The range of choice for a substitute for your beloved "crown" of panama is wide.

ARRANGE QUICK
SILK BOND SALE

Chamber of Commerce Directors
Discuss Whirlwind Campaign in Town.

FINISH JOB IN THREE DAYS

Banks will Advise Patrons. Impossible to Canvass County. Bonds
Thus Far have Sold Themselves.

Arrangements to carry on a whirlwind campaign in Gettysburg to sell $85,000 worth of J. H. and C. K. Eagle bonds at six per cent interest were completed at a meeting of the board of directors of the Local Chamber of Commerce Monday night. The entire town has been districted and teams composed of two men each will visit citizens and explain to them the project that will, if successful, bring a silk throwing plant to Gettysburg that will be worth, when completed, approximately $185,000.

Twenty thousand dollars has already been subscribed and the business and professional men who have investigated the proposition thoroughly believe that by Friday night the entire $85,000 will be guaranteed.

At first it was thought that the people of the entire county would be asked to invest but it has been found that this would require too long a time in the canvass. People living in the smaller towns in the county and in the rural districts will be welcomed as subscribers but they will not be called upon. The complete list of those who have signed an application for bonds may be seen at the office of George Fissel and voluntary subscriptions will be gladly received.

While the Gettysburg banks have not given a public endorsement of the Eagle bond proposition, these institutions will advise any person who is still in doubt as to the quality of the security. Certain features of the proposition, while they have been explained fully, are not clearly understood by some prospective investors.

According to the statement of the project set forth by J. H. and C. K.
Eagle the plant at Gettysburg is to cost $185,000. The building and ground will be valued at $85,000 and approximately $100,000 will be installed before the plant is in full swing. In addition to the first mortgage on this building and machinery, the $85,000 worth of bonds to be sold in this community are secured by the personal guarantee of the heads of this firm whose rating runs into the millions.

Thus far the bonds have sold themselves and the men who are making the canvass are wasting no time in urging the purchase of the securities.
They are presenting it simply as a business proposition—guaranteed bonds bearing six per cent interest per annum.

spection. Practically all of the schools in the State are now in operation.
State health authorities are watching for any appearance of unusual types of influenza and are giving close attention to the cases of infantile paralysis reported lately from central counties.

Court Confirms Accounts.

Judge Donald P. McPherson has certified the transcript of the trial proceedings in the case of Commonwealth versus Clarence Collins, sentenced to die for the murder of George Bushman, and a record of the trial is now being prepared to be presented before the Pennsylvania Supreme Court toward the end of October.

As George J. Benner, attorney for Collins, made a motion that the Collins case be brought before the Supreme Court at Pittsburgh it has been necessary to print every word said during the Collins trial.

It is within the power of the Supreme Court to overrule the decision of Adams county's court on any grounds and declare the trial here null and void.

Further business transacted at the Tuesday session of court was granting the discharge of George W. Reichle as administrator in the estate of Annie Artzberger; and the petition of G. D.
Morrison as administrator of the estate of F. W. Morrison, late of Straban township.

Hearing of petition for refund of liquor licenses was continued until October 20, 1919.

The court confirmed the following accounts:

POSTAL CLERKS ASK
WAGE INCREASE

Jesse Snyder Represents Local Office in Meeting at Harrisburg.

Jesse Snyder, postal clerk at the local office, represented Gettysburg at the State meeting of postal clerks held Sunday in Harrisburg.

The object of the meeting was to adopt resolutions and start a movement for better wages. Representatives of first and second class post offices were present. After a number of delegates had made speeches on the matter under discussion, resolutions were unanimously adopted calling for the fixing of a minimum salary for postal clerks at $1,500.
A maximum salary was placed at $2,300, but wage increases were called for in $200 steps.

Forty per cent of all postal clerks in first and second class offices shall be designated as "special clerks", according to another part of the resolutions. A special committee was named to go to Washington and confer with the Congressional Investigation Committee on October 9 and 10, and to present the demands of the resolutions. The committee is composed as follows:

H. A. Garner, Reading, chairman;
J. T. Mohler, Harrisburg, and H. E.
Feiser, York. Post offices represented at the meeting Sunday included Allentown, Sunbury, Pottsville, Hanover, Gettysburg, York, Lancaster, Lebanon, Lock Haven and others.

Charles H. Hoffman, of Harrisburg, made an address concerning the betterment of the postal clerks, and a letter was read from C. P.
Francisco, president of the National Association of post office clerks, giving his hearty support to the movement.

HUNT STONE FOR STATE MEMORIAL

Vast Resources will be Combed
for Suitable Building Stone.

AN ENORMOUS MONUMENT

New Geological Bureau Ready for Active Work. Three Reasons for the Survey.

A determined search for stone suitable for road building purposes at points close to where the State Highway Department is engaged or will be engaged in big road building jobs and a study of certain Pennsylvania decorative materials needed in the construction of the new Soldiers', Sailors' and Marines' Memorial Bridge in Harrisburg which will be built by the State, will be among the first things the newly created Bureau of Topographic and Geological Survey in the State Department of Internal Affairs will take up.

Secretary of Internal Affairs James F. Woodward and Dr. George H. Ashley, State Geologist and head of the new geological bureau, have already offered the services of the bureau to State Highway Commissioner Lewis S.
Sadler and every effort will be exerted by the bureau to locate the necessary road building materials at points near the construction jobs so that Pennsylvania's road building program may go forward as speedily as possible.

The new Memorial Bridge, which will be a part of the Capitol Park development plan, will necessitate the use of certain quantities of decorative stone in its construction and Dr. Ashley will engage in locating suitable materials in Pennsylvania.

Dr. Ashley, who was appointed head of the new bureau a little more than a week ago, is enthusiastic over the possibilities of the bureau in being able to obtain for the people of the Commonwealth information of value concerning the State's underground resources. The new bureau will also act as the State's expert in all matters within the survey's jurisdiction.

The new bureau is now ready for active work and at the outstart Dr.
Ashley has announced that he will welcome inquiries from both inside and outside the State regarding the State's geology or mineral resources and that he will be glad to learn of any supposed new discovery of materials.

In discussing the work of the new geological bureau, Dr. Ashley had this to say relative to the need for a survey in Pennsylvania:

"There are three reasons why a survey is necessary for Pennsylvania.
First, the wealth and material advancement of any state or nation depends on the use of its natural resources. It would be difficult, if not impossible, to develop a high state of civilization in any sense without fertile soils or varied and abundant mineral resources. It is from these things that the wealth of a state is derived. If you will compare different states or nations you will find that all great states or nations have abundant mineral resources. Pennsylvania is the industrial Titan of America because of her vast stores of mineral wealth—coal, clay, iron and all the rest.

College Graduate Is English Instruct-

Ordean Rockey, a member of the class of 1916 at college, will return to State College to take up his duties

ship to Oxford university, but the coming of the war made it necessary to cancel it. It is not known whether he will go to England now or not.

CHURCH SURVEY
SOON TO START

Work will Start as Soon as District Councils have been Organized.

IMPARTIAL AND COMPLETE

Same Work Being Done in this County is Going on in Every Community in the United States.

A general survey of the religious conditions and needs of this county, as part of the world-wide surveys being made by the Interchurch World Movement of North America, will be made as soon as the organization of district councils and other preliminary steps now under way have been completed.

Every Evangelical denomination
has been invited to co-operate in the work. The survey is to be made by competent investigators who are satisfactory to all the churches. The object is to obtain an impartial and complete summary of all the facts relating to the condition of every church in the county as to its finances, its membership, whether growing, stationary or declining, whether it has a resident pastor, what families are included in its ministry, how often its people are visited by pastors, what families in the county are without pastoral oversight, etc.

The county council will be expected to assemble this information. It will then be sent for the tabulation to the state council but, in the meantime, the facts will be laid before all the leaders in all the denominations of the county who will be invited to attend conferences where local problems to fit the ascertained facts will be worked out by common agreement.

What is being done in this county is being repeated in every one of the 3000 rural counties of the United States. Similar studies of religious conditions abroad are being made through the missionaries in the field, through governmental forces, through private agencies and through the headquarters of the great American mission societies.

The Interchurch World Movement is a co-operative effort of the missionary boards, church extension societies, and similar benevolent agencies of all

NORMAL VOTE AT NOON

About Usual Number of Voters Turn Out for Primaries Here.

Returns from the three ward polls in Gettysburg at noon to-day indicated that a normal number of voters were turning out to support their favorite candidates for nomination on the Democratic and Republican tickets.

Seventy three votes were recorded at Third Ward polls in the Court House and the other two wards averaged about the same.

Reports from county districts indicated that there will be a normal vote there also as the corn cutting season is expected to interfere to some degree with the prospects of a record breaking primary.

ASKED TO GIVE BACK KIAO-CHAU

United States Requests Japan to Set Definite
Date.

REPORT COMES BY CABLE

Japan has not Given an Answer.
Washington Officials Refuse to Comment Upon the Dispatch.

(By Associated Press)

Honolulu, September 16—The United States government has asked the Japanese government to fix a definite date for the return of Kiao-Chau to China, according to a cable received to-day by the Nippu, a Japanese daily newspaper. The cable further stated that the Japanese government had not answered the communication.

Washington, September 16—Officials here in the absence of President Wilson and Secretary Lansing will not comment on the report that the United States has asked the Japanese government to set a definite date for the return of Kiao-Chau to China. The general impression in official circles is that the report is well founded.

STOCK REPORT

Many Stocks in Spectacular Rise During Morning Session.

(By Associated Press)

New York, September 16—United States steel again proved to be an uncertain quantity in the stock market at the opening this morning, forfeiting almost one point after its first rally and continued its uncertainty exclusive of reversals elsewhere. Additional cause for restraint was further shown in foreign exchanges.

The morning was not without its spectacular features, Kesey steel rising nineteen points, Stromberg carburetor, twelve points, Lorillard tobacco, eight and Crucible steel, seven, while Fisher body reacted twenty points.

Business slackened to a great extent just before noon, traders evidently awaiting the outcome of the labor situation in Washington.

SUPPORT POLICEMEN

Boston Hebrew Society and Two Unions Favor Strike.

(By Associated Press)

Boston, Sept. 16—The attitude of organized labor toward the striking policemen is being deliberately determined. The car-men's union, the United Hebrew Trade society and the Bartenders' union have decided to support the policemen. The action of the car-men was taken before the policemen went on strike.

It is quite possible that no general strike will be declared even if they are in sympathy with the movement.
It was pointed out to-day that in most cases where voting was called for the word "strike" was avoided and in balloting on the question the word "support" was used which might take many various meanings.

PLANNING STEEL STRIKE

Organizers Confer on Proposed Walk
Out on Monday.

(By Associated Press)

Pittsburgh, September 16—Organizers, fifty to sixty in number who are engaged in the unionization of all the steel workers in the Pittsburgh district met to-day to consider matters in connection with the jurisdiction of the proposed strike which is scheduled to take place next Monday.

According to officials of the union at headquarters, the organizers discussed plans for the strike, giving their views upon the subject and making further reports on the situation at the steel plants. The meeting was called by the national president of the unions interested in the movement.

STEEL STRIKE STILL IN DOUBT

Postponement will Depend Upon Action of Committee on Wednesday.

GOMPERS SAYS NOTHING

Indications that He is Obtaining Consent of Union Heads to Wait Until After October Sixth.

Chicago, September 16—An order directing steel workers in the Chicago district to suspend work next Monday was issued last night by Theodore Vind, president of the South Chicago Trades and Labor Assembly. Mr. Vind said that the order, which affected 150,000 workers was issued on authority of the steel workers' association and would not be rescinded.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 16—Whether the strike in the steel industry, called for next Monday, will be deferred until after the industrial conference summoned by President Wilson to be held at Washington, October 6, will depend upon the action of the national committee for organizing iron and steel workers at a meeting here Wednesday.

Labor leaders here interested in the proposed steel strike, said they were not sure that the wishes of President Wilson, who desires the postponement of the strike, will be carried out. It all depends upon reports to be made at the meeting, one of the leaders said. M. F. Tighe, of Pittsburgh, president of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, said last night he had received a letter from Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, enclosing the proposal of President Wilson that the walkout be postponed. Mr. Tighe would not say whether he would support a move to defer the strike, but said the result of the meeting is "problematical." He said it might be difficult to convince the national presidents of unions affiliated in the steel industry, composing the national committee, because of conditions surrounding workers.

Companies continue to discharge men, for organizing or presenting wage scales, he declared. "Only this afternoon I received a report that workmen were discharged in a tin mill at McKeesport for presenting a scale of wages," he asserted.

It is said here that President Wilson's telegram asking for a postponement of the strike was received after the national committee had decided to call the steel workers out. The fact that this telegram came after that action will, it is said, have strong weight among union leaders to reconsider the decision reached at Washington last week.

In the meantime preparations for initiating the strike are going forward, according to William Z. Foster, secretary-treasurer of the national committee. There will be a conference of organizers to-day, in preparation for the meeting of the national committee Wednesday.

Gompers' Efforts
Washington, Sept. 16—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, returning Monday to his office at federation headquarters, went over the situation arising from the police strike in Boston and the proposed nation-wide steel workers' strike September 22, but refused absolutely to comment on either.

There were indications at the close of the day, however, that the labor chief was making every effort to obtain from heads of the steel workers' unions consent to call off the proposed strike and to await the industrial conference called for October 6 by President Wilson, before taking action.

The work of Mr. Gompers was seen in the decision of the United Mine Workers in convention at Cleveland to support a movement to delay the steel workers' walkout. In requesting that the mine workers make this decision, Mr. Gompers forwarded a letter from President Johnson, of the International Association of Machinists, favoring postponement of the strike.

MOB ATTACKS MINERS

Lawless Element Refuse to Let Men Work

(By Associated Press)

Scranton, September 16—When the Hudson Coal company miners attempted to enter the Conestoga mine to-day they were attacked by a mob of the lawless element of the striking miners who were endeavoring to prevent the return of the men to work. Stones and clubs were brought into use to drive away the men and it was necessary to sound a riot call for the police.

Six of the men in the mob were arrested.

The mine officials decided to close the colliery for the day.

The Lackawanna Coal company strike which involves 14,000 workmen in the Scranton section will return to work to-morrow.

BOSTON—Already criticism is heard over the handling of the police strike situation in Boston. Mayor Peters is blamed for slowness in checking violence. Governor Coolidge has said he had been ready to order out troops two days before they were requested. Rear Admiral Bowles is among the prominent citizens who have been doing volunteer police duty.

CORPUS CHRISTI SWEEP BY STORM

About 25 Persons Killed and 4000 Made Homeless by Tidal Wave.

Corpus Christi, Texas, September 16—From fifteen to twenty five persons are dead, approximately 4,000 are homeless and property damage, it is estimated, will reach $4,000,000 as a result of the tropical storm which raged here for 20 hours.

The city is in distress and Mayor Gordon Boone has sent the following appeal to Governor Hobby at Austin: "Please send at once two companies of National Guard with supplies and join in an appeal for financial assistance. Condition here deplorable and immediate help needed."

The Courthouse is being used as a morgue. At least a score of persons were adrift in Neches Bay Monday night where they were washed out by the waves. They are clinging to spars and debris and what few boats were left undamaged by the storm were being used Monday night to rescue them.

The city is without drinking water. There were no lights or gas Monday night and the food supply was insufficient. Unless help reaches here to-day there will be serious suffering it is feared.

The railroad to the causeway has been washed away, but the town can be reached from the west. Word was received Monday night that a train is coming from St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexico. It is believed supplies could be sent from Laredo.

The entire North Beach residential section of the city has been swept clean, except the Spohn Sanatorium, the United States Public Health Service Hospital, which was occupied by 37 soldiers sent here for treatment, and one frame dwelling house.

Practically every frame building on the beach front of the city was destroyed, together with most of the boats moored there. The residence section on the hill was slightly damaged and a few houses were unroofed.

WOULD CANCEL EVERY STRIKE

New League Would Make President Member of Labor Organization.

(By Associated Press)
New York, September 16—The proposal that the President of the United States be elected to membership in the American Federation of Labor and that all strikes now in progress throughout the country be cancelled in order to meet "the perilous situation which is undermining the foundation of a free and democratic government," was contained in a communication to President Gompers and the Executive Committee of the American Federation of Labor by the "League of A. F. of L. members for partnership and industrial democracy" which was made public here to-day.

The League was recently organized by John J. Pierce and Isadore Epstein, who were members of a special committee appointed by James P. Holland, president of the State Federation of Labor, to investigate the industrial conditions.

The report of the committee was published Labor Day and recommended an industrial truce and that all strikes be called off. The report was repudiated by President Holland and Epstein and Pierce discharged from the committee.

"How much is your new country house going to cost?" "Much more than I expected," answered Mr. Crossroads. "We forgot to figure in the mural decorations and private elevator for the servant's room."—New York Globe.

WILSON QUOTES SENATOR LODGE

First Time that President Mentioned Name of League Opponent.

RECEIVES GREAT OVATION

Hopes to Have Co-Operation of Lodge in Carrying Out Desired Ends. Portland People Enthusiastic.

Portland, Ore., September 16—Quoting from an address made in 1915 by Senator Lodge, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, suggesting that nations must unite as men unite to preserve peace, President Wilson told a Portland audience Monday night that the League of Nations covenant carried out what Mr. Lodge had suggested. It was the first time during his speaking tour that Mr. Wilson had mentioned by name any of the senators opposing the league.

When the President went from his hotel to the Auditorium for his night speech, he again rode through densely crowded streets and was cheered all the way. The audience stood up and applauded for three minutes when he entered the hall. Led by Mayor Baker they sang "The Star Spangled Banner." The cheering broke out afresh when the Mayor presented a bouquet of roses to Mrs. Wilson.

Oregon "10 to 1 for League"

B. F. Irvine, editor of the Oregon Journal, introducing Mr. Wilson, was cheered when he coupled the names of the President and former President Taft in a plea that there must be atonement for the American dead in the war. Declaring the President was "in the house of his friends," Mr. Irvine said Oregon stood "ten or twenty to one" for the League of Nations.

Asserting he had found few men opposed to a League of Nations, the President said the great objection seemed to be to this particular league. "I entirely concur in Senator Lodge's declaration," said the President, "and I hope I shall have his co-operation in carrying out the desired ends."

He recalled his conference with the Foreign Relations Committee on his first return from Paris, and said every suggestion for improvement made by the committee members had been written into the covenant.

Most of these suggestions, said the President, had come from Republican sources.

Saying he meant no disrespect to the league opponents, Mr. Wilson stirred up an outburst of cheering when he added that he had "no respect whatever" for some of them.

The President asserted that "a very few men" were proposing that the covenant be changed to give the United States "a position of special privilege."

His Day Address

"If America stays out of the League of Nations it will do so at a great cost to democracy and in violation of its moral interests," President Wilson declared in an address here Monday.

Deploping the suggestion which he said was being made on all sides that the United States take advantage of the world situation without shouldering any of the responsibility, Mr. Wilson declared such a policy would be futile, because this country, as much as any other, was interested in guaranteeing a stable world order.

From the time the Presidential train arrived the President and Mrs. Wilson were followed by cheering crowds. When he appeared on the rear platform of his private car at the station, a railroad man shouted "atta boy!" And a crowd which had squeezed through the police lines to the tracks started a roar of welcome which continued all the way along an auto ride through Portland's principal streets.

WILL NOT DISBAND UNION

Macon Police and Firemen Refuse to Yield.

(By Associated Press)

Macon, Ga., Sept. 16—Both the policemen and the city firemen held out to-day and refused to yield to the demands of the Civil Service Commission to disband their union. Their representatives said they would accept as a body if the city council, which meets to-night, upholds the action of the Commission.

Two men who had been old school-fellows met the other day in a restaurant. After exchanging greetings, one said: "By the way, old chap, when at school you used to be rather fond of music. Do you play any instruments now?" "Yes," was the reply. "Second fiddle at home."—Pearson's Weekly.

PERSHING LEADS VICTORY PARADE

Arrangement Completed for Spectacular Procession in Washington, Wednesday.

Washington, September 16—Arrangements are completed for the great Victory parade of the First Division from the Capitol along Pennsylvania avenue on Wednesday. The officers and men of the division, 25,000 strong, are encamped at Camp Meade, Camp Meigs, in East Washington, Potomac Park, south of the Washington monument, and at the American University Park, in the northwestern suburb. The great Victory Arch at 15th street and New York avenue was completed Monday, as were the official reviewing stand, the Lafayette Park stands, and those at various points along the avenue. All the seats have been sold, but space is being sold in show windows, on balconies and on some smaller stands that are still to be erected.

The parade will start at one o'clock in the afternoon. The route will be westward from the Peace monument along Pennsylvania avenue, to 15th street, through Victory Arch and the Court of Honor in front of the White House, to 19th street and Pennsylvania avenue. There will be eight regimental bands in line, and seven other bands stationed along the avenue will play martial tunes. The Florists' Club, of Washington, has arranged to donate tens of thousands of roses, which will be scattered along the line of march by young women. These flower bearers will march a short distance in advance of General Pershing and his staff, who will lead the parade down the avenue to the White House reviewing stand.

MR. ORCHARDIST

Maybe your orchard doesn't get wet with dew in the night, and doesn't get you cold and wet in the mornings before the sun gets busy. But if it does—here's the remedy—A pair of overboots. A light weight rubber boot to be worn OVER the ordinary leather shoe. Protects the leg to the knee, and buckles right below it to keep the top up. When the sun gets up and dries the grass, jerk them off, roll them up, and put them in your pocket—they weigh only 2 1-2 lbs. a pair. Ask to see them the next time you are in town—$2.75 a pair—you will have lots of winter use for them too.

Seven Miles of Bad Road

[National Crop Improvement Service.]
"I will not do any good to advise farmers not to retire and not to move to town, nor will it do any good to preach that boys must be kept on the farm. The only way to solve these two problems is to make country life as attractive and as convenient as town life and the automobile is rapidly doing it," says Mr. Frank Baackes, vice-president, American Steel & Wire company.

"I was reading the other day of a man in New York state who had worked his way up from boyhood and now owns a 130-acre farm improved, fenced and with a beautiful house, big barns and modern improvements. Now he says he is going to move to town because his wife wants to go, because he lives eight miles from town over the most horrible road in the world.

"He claims he and his wife have been prisoners at hard labor without even the commonest of pleasures. He says that most of his friends have forsaken their farms and have gone to his town and he wants to go there and enjoy their society.

"Therefore when we all realize that every man owes public service in road making, this moving-to-town bugaboo will not be so prevalent. Fix the road and you have fixed almost everything that counts."

How to Make Money Go.

Pick up a half dollar with two needles, or pins, by placing the points on the milled edge of the coin diametrically opposite each other. By keeping the needles firmly pressed against the coin it will be held with sufficient firmness. Then blow against the coin, directing your breath either above or below the center line, and it will spin round at a great rate, producing a buzzing sound.

The Evangelical churches to work out a unified Christian program. It is not a movement for organic church union. On the contrary, it expects each denominational society to preserve its own identity and work with its own money through its own machinery. The idea is to make a systematic and complete study of everything that is to be done and to have all the constituent bodies get together and agree upon which part of the work each is to undertake.

The movement originated last fall with certain members of the Foreign Missionary Board of the Presbyterian church, South. Acting upon a suggestion from these men, 135 representatives of various missionary societies of many denominations met in New York City in December. This conference decided that something of the kind could be done and appointed a committee of 20 leaders in various churches to work out a plan.

The committee of 20 worked out a system of co-operation it thought would be satisfactory. To consider it, a general conference was called at Cleveland, O., in May. This conference was attended by 500 delegates representing 200 different religious agencies.

Realizing that no adequate program of co-operation could be worked out until all the facts were known, the movement already has begun its surveys.

After the county councils have completed their work and forwarded the results to the state council, that body will make up a complete report and analysis for the entire state. This in turn will be forwarded to the National organization for final analysis, after which it will be possible to get at the salient points of information for any locality in the United States.

The Interchurch World Movement is the first organization to undertake such a task on such a large scale.

POTATOES ONLY WORTH $1

Says Waynesboro Woman and She Sells Them for That.

Waynesboro, Pa., Sept. 16—Waynesboro claims the distinction of having the only woman in the United States to voluntarily apply the Golden Rule in parting with her produce. She raised 26 bushels of potatoes in her back lot and deducting the amount she needed for her family over the winter, some twelve bushels, she sold the balance for a $1 a bushel, the local retail price being $2. Explaining her act, she said: "Potatoes were not worth more than $1 a bushel and why charge more in these times when people were being bled to death by those who produce and those who handle the necessities of life."

The name of this philanthropic woman is Mrs. Clinton Middlekauff.

WELL KNOWN MEN IN PARTY OF PRINCE

Are Soldiers and Close Friends of the English Boy who Will be King.

London, Sept. 16—Several members of the official party accompanying the Prince of Wales on his journey to the United States and Canada are already well-known to many Americans.

It is remembered in London that the pleasure of the royal visitor and that of his hosts was somewhat marred when, in 1860, the late King Edward Seventh, then Prince of Wales, toured the North American continent because the accompanying entourage was composed of elderly men—men too seriously mindful of the responsibility with which they had been saddled. This criticism was taken into consideration in naming the members of the party of the Prince now in America.

Lord Claud Hamilton is a fellow-officer of the Prince of Wales in the Grenadier Guards. He joined the army in 1911 serving throughout the war and was awarded the Distinguished Service Order for conspicuous gallantry at the front.

Captain the Honorable Piers, Legh is one of the Prince's equerries, a fellow-officer in the Guards, a former aide to the Duke of Connaught and a younger son of Lord Newton. The Captain is said to be endowed with much of the wit and appreciation of humor for which his father is distinguished.

Sir Godfrey Thomas is a personal friend and regimental comrade of the Prince. His mother was a daughter of Charles Oppenheim, the London banker.

NINE SOLDIERS EXECUTED

While American Army was in France. One for Desertion.

Paris, Sept. 16—Nine soldiers of the American Expeditionary Force were hanged and one was shot for criminal offenses during the war, it was revealed recently at the investigation of A. E. F. courts-martial by the congressional committee inquiring into war expenditures.

Two of the hangings were for murder, the investigation brought out. Seven men were hanged for rape, of whom six were negroes. There was a single execution for desertion.

Murder trials totaled 110, resulting in sixty-two convictions. One-fifth of all the general courts-martial were officers and the rest enlisted men and welfare workers. Most of the officers were charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Convictions resulted in sixty-seven per cent of officers' cases which went to trial. Seventy-seven per cent of the men tried by general courts-martial were found guilty.

Only one conscientious objector was tried.

BUILDING BOOM ON IN THE STATE

Report for August Shows Increased Activity. Valuation Jumps.

Building permits issued in 153 cities of the United States during the month of August, as officially reported to the American Contractor, show that building activity has forged ahead as evidenced by number and valuation of permits taken out. July activity is exceeded, the average valuation per city for 162 cities in July being less than $900,000, while the value per city for 153 cities in August is over $1,000,000, giving a total valuation of $160,947,233 for 35,535 permits issued in the latter month as against a valuation of $140,474,662 for 38,790 permits issued in July.

It is interesting to note that the valuation of the individual permit has increased considerably, the average value in August being $4,534, as against an average value of $3,760 for July, $3,375 for June, $2,600 for May and $1,700 for January.

Activity may be said to be spotty, but there are no defined regions wherein cities show gains and where they show losses. A comparison of 140 cities with July records show 83 gains for August and 57 losses.

Priceless Persian Rugs.

It is a well known fact that an Oriental never sets foot upon his rug with even the soft sandals that he wears. When his foot is set upon his rug it is entirely bare, and this is the reason why oriental rugs woven hundreds of years ago are still perfectly preserved. The hunting rugs of Persia have a great historical value, as they depict authentically how the phoenix and elephant were hunted in ancient days. Mounted hunters pursuing the lion, deer, and other creatures, both fabulous and real, form the groundwork of all of these rugs.

SPORTING COLUMN

What do you say old timer? Who is your pick as the world series winner? Draw up a little closer and we'll talk this matter over.

Announcement has been made that Chicago and Cincinnati will start a series of nine games about October first in Chicago and the winner of the first five contests will be champions of the world.

Any one that picks the winner now will be better than a million of these "I told you so" boys after the series, so let's talk over the dope.

There is no use trying to discuss all of this world series dope at once so we'll take it gradually and start off with the respective strength of the leagues and the two managers.

Since 1909 the American league has won every world championship except in 1914 when the Boston Braves startled the sporting world with their sensational climb from the National league cellar to the world championship. American league fans point to this record with pride and say that Cincinnati is not strong enough to beat Chicago because the National league clubs are always inferior to the American National league fans, however, retaliate by saying that the Nationals won in 1909 and 1914, and in 1919 the Reds are bound to repeat.

From a managerial standpoint Cincinnati wins in the opinion of the writer. No manager in the game today can boast superiority over Pat Moran who takes seemingly mediocre material and by his personality and knowledge of the game welds them into a winning combination.

Kid Gleason, Chicago manager, however, is also a very competent leader, one who has the confidence of his men and is bound to make a splendid showing in the series.

Art of Chinese Gardeners.

Chinese gardeners sometimes plant statues of tiny men frilly in posts, just like real plants, and then train live evergreens to grow up over these statues. The vines thus form a kind of robe for the statue men, their white faces and hands protruding from the green leaves.

WALT MASON ON THRIFT SUBJECT

Noted Poet and Writer Gives His Views on Cost of Living.

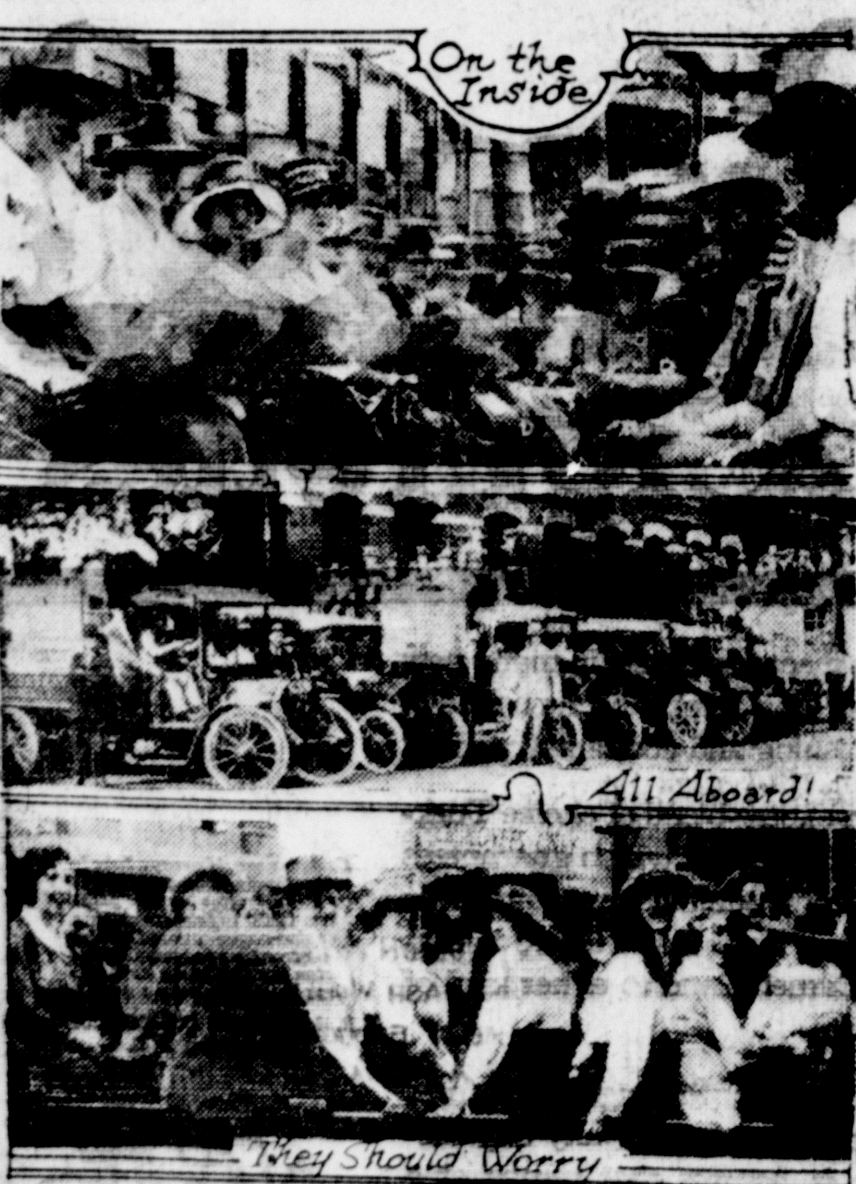

Someone asked Walt Mason what he thought of the High Cost of Living. Walt might have replied like the rest of us, but he didn't. He says:

"Life is gay and blithe and sunny since the peace dove hit the breeze; every one is burning money just as though it grew on trees. I insist on thrift and saving, but there's none to heed my words; Johnnies say that I am raving, and throw money to the birds. Men are drawing princely wages, and their breasts are filled with mirth, and they jeer foreboding sages who predict a day of dearth; but that day will come as surely as to-morrow's sun will rise; things will then be going poorly with the giddy spendthrifts. Things won't boom along forever as they're booming now, my friends; and the man who's truly clever saves as ably as he spends. It is patent to the knowing, in expansive times like these, that the kopecks won't be growing always on the shrubs and trees. There will come a day of trouble, when this boom is left behind, and the kopeck and the ruble will be mighty hard to find; happy then the lads whose wages have been safely placed in brine, who obey the seers and sages, when the saving graft was fine. And how sick will be the mortals who like spendthrifts now behave, who reply with jeers and chortles when we call on them to save."

Pennilion Singing.

Pennilion singing is quite common in Wales, and peculiar to the principality. It consists of an instrument playing over a tune in strict time and repeating it over and over again, while the singer or singers extemporize words to it in time. The impromptu poetry must fit the music and is generally of a humorous character. The custom is common among the people of the principality and is their national instrument, the harp.

SUGAR-COATING THE STREET CAR STRIKE

Street-car strikes are drastic pills for the public. Chicago and New York recently had to take their medicine. The same dose may be brewing for other cities. But with the experience of the eastern and western metropolises to guide them, other towns may sugar-coat their local transportation troubles. There's a way.

Street car strikes are calamities to business men. Preparedness is the only remedy for them. One business man of Chicago, at least, was prepared. He set an example for merchants all over the country in future street car strikes. He had his trucks loaded with goods before the strike. He had his trucks loaded with goods before the strike. He had his trucks loaded with goods before the strike.

Here are the first pictures of General Pershing upon his arrival at the port of New York from his victorious campaign overseas. At the left is a characteristic snapshot of the commander-in-chief on the Leviathan, showing him waving "Hello" to Secretary of War Baker and others of the official party that sailed out to greet him. At the right he is shown crossing the gangplank to place foot on the soil that he had left more than two years ago.

STONE EMBARGO RAISED

Road Contractors will not be Delayed by Shipments.

Embargo against shipment of stone for road construction in Pennsylvania has been raised and that commodity may now be handled without permits, although in some sections there are complaints against the style of cars furnished for handling material. State Highway officials have been informed that there is no embargo, this information following the telegram of Director General Walker D. Hines, answering the protest made by Governor William G. Sprout who pointed out the harm that would result to the Pennsylvania State road building program from the continuance of the embargo.

Contractors who had been complaining about the possibility of the embargo holding up operations already interfered with by rainy weather and labor and material conditions have sent word that if they get the stone promptly they will work until snow flies. The Department has over 500 miles of road under way.

No man for any considerable period can wear one face to himself and another to the multitude without finally getting bewildered as to which may be true.—Hawthorne.

COMPLETE DAM SURVEY

The most extensive survey of the dams on the streams of Pennsylvania, including the large water supply and electric generating plants, has just been completed by the engineers of the State Water Supply Commission, more than forty counties having been covered in the inspection. The inspection was ordered as the result of the unusually rainy summer and in many cases exhaustive tests were made, some leading to orders being issued for various changes in structures. It was found as a rule that instructions in former years had been well carried out.

SQUIRE TALKS ABOUT THRIFT

Criticizes Government Officials Who Live in Luxury.

HITS JUDGES' PENSIONS

Deplores Giving $100,000 to Encourage Fishing, a Sport for Idle Loafers. Hits Food Cost.

We noticed an article in The Times recently where the State desired Dr. Markley to appoint a little band of close observers to canvass the county, and see that there is no profiteering and urge thrift and economy. Why doesn't the government officials examine the thousands of public officials, who are living amidst luxurious surroundings, eating up millions of taxes.

An appropriation of $2,100,000 to try some theories and give several hundred persons enormous salaries. $100,000 is wanted to send a few sapheads over the country to teach the good old housewives how to cook a fish; another like sum to encourage fishing; $150,000 is asked to report on the market conditions; $475,000 is asked to reduce the cost of living. Just think, says the Independent, $100,000 to encourage fishing.

What the United States wants in the way of thrift and economy is to stop the enormous expenses in the way of enormous salaries. Seventy two public officials' salaries aggregate $1,398,000. How is that for thrift and economy? These seventy two officials are living amidst luxurious surroundings drawing out of our taxes $50,000 per year.

At the end of the war salaries were to be cut down, instead we notice advances from $6,000 to $10,000. The whole official set of our government are nothing more than pure political grafters.

Now we come home to our own county. Some years ago the county superintendent rode the county over for a salary of three hundred dollars. To-day some persons have placed it to twenty five hundred with a clerk extra, at fifteen hundred. Then the Judges' salary is fixed at seven thousand dollars and ex-Judges draw a pension of some three thousand dollars, so we are informed.

Now in regard to the $100,000 asked to encourage fishing, will the lazy chap who lays along the creek, draw this money, or will the one that encourages him to do so. The government now spends millions to raise fish to place into the streams for sport to a class of idle loafers who do not work. The streams carry back and forth the fish to the rivers, and the rivers to the sea, and have done so for over 1900 years. Just view the enormous salaries of public officials and then compare them with the thousands of poor families in our rural districts who have some eight to ten small children, and think of the enormous cost of food and clothing at the present prices. The heads of such families receive from $2.00 to $2.50 per day. Inclement weather and during the winter no work. Some of them may reach two hundred and fifty dollars per year. Now compare this with $50,000 per year, then you will see where thrift and economy should begin.

Men Of Action Needed For Rail Development

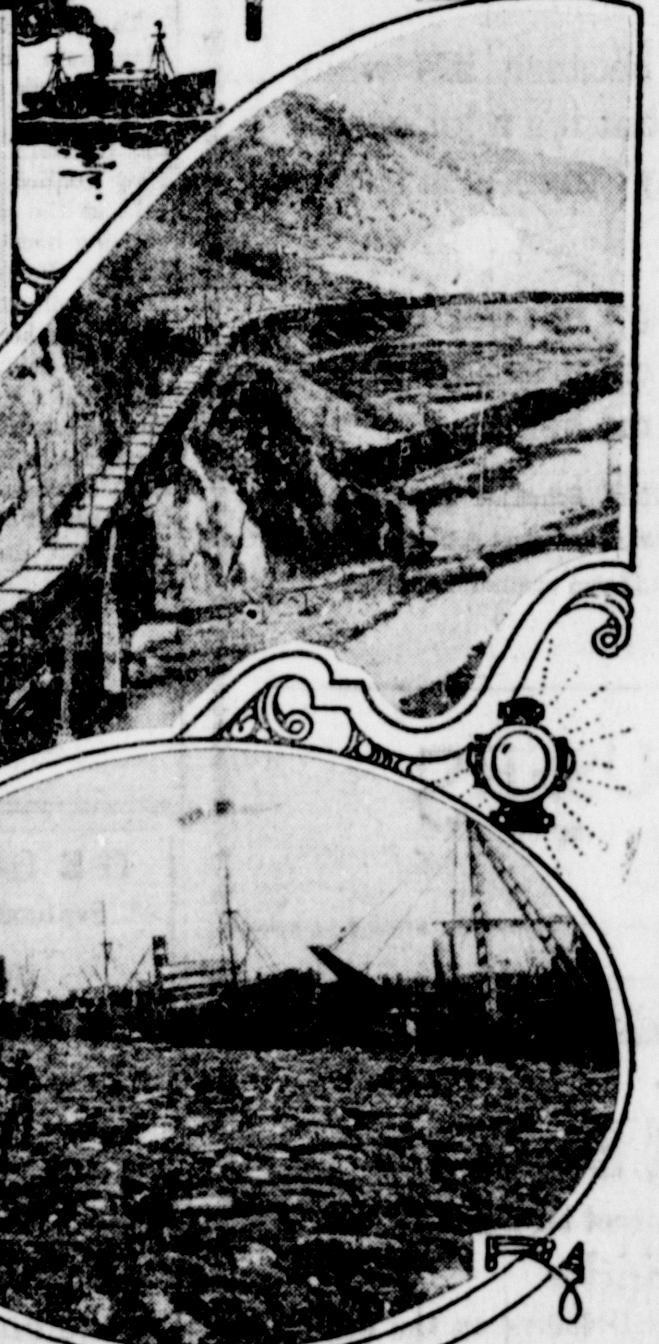

ONE OF CHICAGO'S MAIN SHIPPING CENTERS—THE COUNTRY'S RAILWAY TERMINAL FACILITIES ARE INADEQUATE FOR PRESENT BUSINESS NEEDS.

ALBA B. JOHNSON, PRESIDENT OF THE RAILWAY BUSINESS ASSOCIATION, WHO ASKS FOR A FEDERAL TRANSPORTATION BOARD TO PROMOTE RAILROAD DEVELOPMENT.

450 TON MONSTER, BUILT IN NEW YORK FOR USE IN VIRGINIA, TOO BIG AND HEAVY FOR TRANSPORTATION OVER OTHER TRACKAGE THAN ITS OWN WITHOUT TAKING APART

GALVESTON—FURTHER EXPANSION OF SUCH GREAT AMERICAN INDUSTRIES DEPENDS ON PROPER COORDINATION OF RAIL AND WATER TRANSPORTATION

"One thing remains for the leaders in Congress to accept before any of the railroad measures now under consideration will actually restore railroad development. That is to require that when the proposed new Federal Transportation Board determines the amount of railroad revenue necessary to insure the development demanded by the public interest, the Interstate Commerce Commission shall accept that estimate as a basis for fixing rates."

This is the opinion of Alba B. Johnson of Philadelphia, who recently retired as President of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, and speaks as President of the Railway Business Association, composed of manufacturers of railway accessories, who employ about a million and three-quarters of men.

"A Federal Transportation Board," Mr. Johnson said, "is evidently going to be created. It is necessary to bring about the articulation of highways and waterways with rail routes; it is necessary to supervise such railroad consolidation as may be permitted; it is necessary to regulate security issues; it is necessary to umpire labor disputes. Since such a board is to be established and entrusted with the restoration of railway credit and railway growth it cannot perform that function unless its estimates of revenue recoupment are made effective by actual production of the revenues so estimated."

"Many members of the Senate and House still seem to think they can let the question of adequate revenue see-saw between two regulating bodies and get results. The whole scheme will fall to the ground if that notion is persisted in, and then we shall have government ownership in ten years if not in five.

"The fatal defect in regulation heretofore has been that the statute did not place upon any officer or agency of the government responsibility for making possible the maintenance of railroad development. It would be a calamity of the first magnitude if now, with correction of that defect in every one's thought, we should either leave the responsibility uncertain or place it upon the Interstate Commerce Commission, which has neither competence for the task, nor willingness to perform it."

Mr. Johnson believes that the Interstate Commerce Commission should be preserved as a purely judicial body.

"It is our apprehension that that system is in grave danger," he went on. "Powerful groups are urging Congress to superimpose upon the present statutory duties of the commission certain entirely new and wholly incompatible duties. The common purpose is to introduce into the governmental policy an element of encouragement to railroad development. In this proposed new governmental duty what are the novelties? Is it the object that national growth shall be both promoted and anticipated by provision of transportation facilities? Is it the expectation that representatives of the government will counsel with railroad men and waterway men and hard-surface road men and with users of all these instrumentalities everywhere, planning for the future? Is it in mind that the reasonable public need for enlarged terminals or multiple tracking or extension into new territory shall be quickly and practically judged and promptly sanctioned and that carriers undertaking such projects shall be provided with the means of carrying them vigorously to completion?

"If this is the purpose and the representative of the government in that field is to be the Interstate Commerce Commission, then what is proposed is to transform the commissioners from judges into men of action."

"It may be that we could not effect such a transformation. If we tried, but it proved that we could not, this would be a gigantic calamity in itself. But if we could and did transform these judges into men of action what would become of the machinery of justice, which it has taken us thirty-two years to construct and develop?

"By the word action is meant getting things done—appraising projects, determining methods and bringing results. Getting things done is a function of being a paragon of numbers, a model of mathematics, a professor of ethical philosophy. He uses the self-restraint which all responsible citizens use in a civilized community where there is law and order and a decent respect for the rights of others, but his specialty is getting things done.

"Congress, which is the board of directors of the nation, is about to undertake a project—the restoration of railroad development. Congress is about to assign supervision of that task to an agent. Those who have elected Congress as their board of directors will not be satisfied with a report that postponement of the result desired has been accomplished politely or learnedly or according to tradition.

"What the nation requires is that each year's end will record additions to mileage at least larger than were made by a nation of 32,000,000 before the Civil War. They require some progress and some completion of terminal and double-track projects, construction of motive power and cars somewhere near that before 1906, a year in which industry was shackled and foodstuffs rotted because there was not enough rolling stock to carry material to or product from the factory or to convey grain and live stock to market or seaboard. The country wants results.

"We advocate, therefore, the creation of a Federal Transportation Board, which, having jurisdiction over security issues and hence over railway development, shall have the power that goes with the responsibility for results—the power of certifying to the commission the amount of revenue necessary to the public interest.

"This would designate men of action for a task of getting things done. It would preserve this excellent and highly esteemed tribunal, the Interstate Commerce Commission, as a court to insure that in getting things done the men of action shall not ride rough shod over the citizens and communities who use the facilities.

"With regret we have noticed that some of those who accept our idea of a certificate of public necessity for revenue would still leave with the commission some discretion as to whether it likes or not the estimate of the Federal Transportation Board. As well provide that the auditor of a commercial company be empowered to refuse to sign checks if he believes that the purchasing authority has bought goods not needed by the company.

"To say that Congress cannot frame an authorization and the American people cannot through their chief executive establish a competent agency to make effectual the national will is to assert fundamental pessimism concerning our American experiment in self-government. Your present dependent believes we are justified rather in a glowing optimism, and if there were no other warrant for that sentiment we believe it is to be found in the quest and discovery six years ago of the soundest banking and currency system in the world."

There was a new baby in the corner house, and the proud parents had sent out announcement cards to friends and neighbors. Mary, who lived in the same block, was anxious to see the new baby, and was waiting impatiently for the time to come when she could go. One afternoon at another neighbor's house she saw that she, too, had an announcement of the baby's arrival. "Oh, did you get a ticket to see the baby?" she said. "We did, but it didn't say what day to come."

Sunrise.

She struggled to a certain hilltop and saw before her the silent flooding of the day. Out of the east it welled and whitened; the darkness trembled into light; and the stars were extinguished like the street lamps of a human city. The whiteness brightened into silver, the silver warmed to gold, the gold kindled into pure and living fire; and the face of the east was barred with elemental scarlet. — R. L. Stevenson.

TWO LETTERS

By ELIZABETH I. SAUNDERS.

"Now, Dot, for goodness' sake pocket your pride and plan to go to that dance with us. Even if Wallie is there you won't be obliged to notice him, although I think you are just mean to treat him that way. Now, please, Dot, just this once," pleaded Helen.

"Well, maybe, but still I won't promise yet. I will tell you positively in the morning."

It was now just four months since the two offensive letters had caused so many sleepless nights for two young people, and even four months would not wear away the pain and jealousy that was bound to get the best of both concerned.

Wallie had gone to France, leaving behind him a little girl who had promised to be true to him only. It had made the parting easier to know that she was all his as soon as his duty had been accomplished over there.

Some time later two letters crossed on their way to each of the lovers, both intended to bring happiness and comfort to the other, but instead brought unhappiness and even tears.

"Dear Wallie," one had started.
"Helen has brought me the dearest little fellow. I call him Duke as he is so polite and gentle. He is a little mite and so cunning. I know you will love him when you see him."

At the same time a little, blond, frowns head tossed uneasily on the pillow and two nervous eyelids seemed to be having a hard fight to keep closed, then all at once she sat straight up in bed. The all-offensive paragraph of the letter ran through his mind.

"I am so lonesome tonight, dearest, for two people. You are one, of course, and the other is the dearest little lady in the world. She is another man's wife, so don't be jealous. I love her so much and I know you will, too, when you know her as I do. I got a letter from her today and how I long to see her."

"Another man's wife," indeed, so don't be jealous. I didn't think Wallie would love another man's wife. He never seemed like that kind. But she can have him, that is, if her husband doesn't object," and with an angry tug at the sheets, she flung herself back on the pillow for a restless sleep.

Saturday dawned bright and clear for all with the exception of Duke, who had discovered to his discomfort and misery that too much sweets were not good for little fellows, like himself. Dot left Duke and started for the dance with Helen and her brother. Dot was prettier than ever and so radiant. Inwardly she was fighting two battles, trying to conceal her jealousy for Wallie, but outwardly she showed only the worry for Duke. Apparently she hadn't noticed Wallie.
But indeed she had, she had also noticed that he was alone.

"Beg pardon, Dot, but would it be asking too much if I asked for just one dance?" attempted Wallie. "Not at all, or even two would be but a slight favor," coolly answered Dot, with a bit of sarcasm in her voice that Wallie did not notice, due to the fact that the thought of two dances with Dot overjoyed him. "Couldn't make it three, could you?" he almost pleaded.
"Possibly."

At the end of the eight dances they enjoyed together, Wallie ventured:
"Dot, since Duke isn't here to protect you through the streets tonight to your home, would it be agreeable to you for me to escort you to your door?"

What could be the matter with Wallie? What was he talking about?
"Why, Wallie, I don't understand what you are saying. Poor Duke couldn't protect me."

At the end of their journey homeward, which came too soon for both concerned, Dot in her excitement invited Wallie to call the next day. "I would sure love to, Dot, but how about Duke? Are you quite sure he won't be jealous?" "Duke—jealous—why, Wallie, I do believe you think Duke is a young man!" The telltale expression on Wallie's face confirmed her statement, so as soon as she could conceal the amusement the little misunderstanding had afforded she ventured: "Wallie, you are a jealous goose. Duke is just a dear little four-legged fellow; in other words, a little Boston terrier." "Good heavens, Dot, I have been an idiot. Can you ever forgive me?"

Dot was about to say "Yes," but the offending paragraph of Wallie's letter ran through her mind as it had a million times since that letter had arrived. "But, Wallie, what about the
—the other man's wife?" "Who?"
"You know the one you wrote about?"
After a moment's contemplation Wallie recalled her reference and his face clouded. "Dot, dear, I never dreamed that you could misinterpret my letter that way. I still love that little lady more than anything else on earth, with the exception of your own dear little self, and she is married to another man, too. That man is my best pal—he's my dad; so you see you were just jealous of my mother. Now, what have you to say?"

"Oh, Wallie, I'm so sorry. Can you forgive me?"
We don't know what he said, but a few weeks later at the wedding of this happy pair sat the other man's wife, fondly stroking the head of the cute and cunning Duke.

"Here's wishing Duke a long life, even if he is my cute rival," laughed Wallie. "And here's happiness and long life to the other man's wife—our mother," finished Dot.
